There are 100s of Google Business Profile categories to choose from, and a lot of them can seem a bit vague. In fact, there are approximately 4,000 categories, and Google doesn't exactly provide any help on choosing what is best.

Follow this guide to optimize business categories on your profile:

- What are business categories?
- Choosing the best categories
- Find competitor categories
- The business category list

What Are Google Business Profile Categories?

Google Business Profile categories help your profile show for relevant searches in Google Maps and Local 3-Pack and help potential customers find local businesses when performing localized searches. When creating a Google Business Profile, one of the first steps is to choose a business category. This consists of setting 1 primary category and up to 9 additional business categories.

This is one of the biggest ranking factors in Local Pack.

In fact, optimizing your Google Business Profile, including the categories can make a HUGE impact...

As of May 9th, 2026, there are 4046 Google Business Profile categories, which are frequently updated by Google. In the last 30 days, 3 new categories have been added: Pet microchip scanning station, sewing school, Event fabrication service

⚡ Pro Tip: You can use this guide to find competitor categories including their primary category and any additional secondary categories that they are using.

Here's how to choose the best categories for your business...

How To Choose The Best Business Categories

The best way to select categories for Google Business Profile is to align them with business goals.

Choose the best business categories by determining the following:

- Profitability – Select categories that align with the most profitable services.
- Volume – Choose categories with high search volume keywords.
- Competitors – Compare categories with local competitors.

Usually, less is more and your selection should follow Google's Guidelines  to avoid a suspension due to quality issues.

Note: It's possible to change primary and secondary business categories at any time. Use this guide to change the primary category and any additional categories on your profile.

How To Find Competitor Business Categories

Another good strategy for choosing business categories is to research the competition.

Here's how to find competitor business categories:

1. Install the Phantom  Google Chrome Extension
2. Perform a search for your target keyword or competitor in Google Search or Maps
3. The extension will automatically display all categories for any Business Profile (see below)
